

I like holding hands
I see his hand and want to hold it

Sasha left her mushroom here
I asked Jake to come around to make stuff too, a change in scenery

Why do I watch Bojack Horseman?
I've noticed when I want to watch that show, its because I feel complicated and tired

My changing table of things,
A mixture of gifts, repeats, dried stuff and found

I love how Baka's green, brown and pink glasses cases awkwardly sit in spots where pieces of toast are meant to stay warm

I like holding things
I see a thing and grab hold of it

We can make something here
If I half it, cast into something thats its not and turn it on its side whilst balanced on that other thing and come back to it later
Maybe it can help tell me something that I can't say or think in words

Say it quickly so I know what to do
